Jill Shahverdian* (jill.shahverdian@quinnipiac.edu), Quinnipiac University, Hamden, CT 06518. Assessment as a Vehicle for Change.

At Quinnipiac University we recently completed our written assessment plan. This talk will focus on the assessment projects we developed for the mathematics major. In particular, I will address how the process of articulating an assessment plan engaged the entire department in discussion and led to curriculum changes such as a required senior seminar and a linear algebra course restricted to mathematics majors. (Received September 25, 2006)