Cathleen M Zucco-Teveloff* (Cathleen.zuccoteveloff@mail.trincoll.edu). Making Connections: Turning Students onto Learning Statistics. Preliminary report.

The presenter, who has taught elementary statistics courses at the collegiate level for over 15 years, will briefly discuss and show samples of some of the active learning activities that she has developed for her students. Her talk will highlight her use of one-minute journal entries, collaborative hands-on experiments, computer exercises, and the World Wide Web. The author's paper and the associated sample learning activities will be available at the January meeting as a link on her affiliation's web site: <http://www.trincoll.edu/czuccote/> (Received August 17, 2000)
